DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: Original Application filed 4/6/2001 and IDS filed 11/8/2002.
2. Claims 1-44 are pending. Claims 1 and 24 are independent claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-18, 20-41 and 43-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eintracht et al. (herein after Eintracht) U.S. Patent No. 6,687,878 B1 filed 3/15/1999 in view of Schelling et al. (herein after Schelling) U.S. 5,706,097 filed 1/6/1998 provided by the applicant.

In regard to independent claim 1, Eintracht discloses displaying the image and a plurality of icons, each icon being associated with metadata; selecting at least one of said icons depending on at least one...of the image (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-23 and Figs 1B and 1C i.e. Note Icons that are selected, which contain information about an image)(Eintracht Col 14 Lines 14-22 i.e. selecting an annotation); and storing the metadata associated with said selected icon as an annotation of the subject of the image. (Eintracht Col 19 Lines 42-67 i.e. storing notes associated with a document or image).

Eintracht does not specifically mention where there is a subject of the annotation is displayed with the icon is placed on the images. However, Schelling mentions a subject matter descriptor which indicates the type of subject matter in the data file (Schelling Col 2 Lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply Schelling to Eintracht, providing Eintracht the benefit of detecting the subject of an image without having to individually go into each image to find out the subject, which would save time for the user.

In regard to dependent claim 2, Eintracht discloses selecting at least one of said icons depending on said at least one subject of the image; dragging the selected icon to the image; dropping the dragged icon on the ... the image (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 24-27 i.e. grabbing a note icon and dragging it to a new location on the image); and detecting the ... the position at which the icon is dropped, wherein said storing step stores the metadata associated with the dropped icon as an annotation ... of the image. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-23 and Figs 1B and 1C i.e. Note Icons that are selected, which contain information about an image which can be placed on the image when the icon is dropped)

Eintracht does not specifically mention where there is a subject of the annotation is displayed with the icon is placed on the images. However, Schelling mentions a subject matter descriptor which indicates the type of subject matter in the data file (Schelling Col 2 Lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply Schelling to Eintracht, providing Eintracht the benefit of detecting the subject of an image without having to individually go into each image to find out the subject, which would save time for the user.

In regard to dependent claim 3, Eintracht does not specifically disclose wherein said detecting step extracts the subject from the image based on the dropped position when the dragged icon is dropped on the image. However, Schelling mentions a subject matter descriptor which indicates the type of subject matter in the data file (Schelling Col 2 Lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply Schelling to Eintracht, providing Eintracht the benefit of detecting the subject of an image without having to individually go into each image to find out the subject, which would save time for the user.

In regard to dependent claim 4, Eintracht discloses wherein said subject is extracted based on the color information of the dropped position (Eintracht Col 7 Line 10-15 i.e. based on note color label).

In regard to dependent claim 5, Eintracht discloses wherein said detecting step extracts a predetermined sized region of ... dropped position and said storing step stores the metadata associated with the dropped icon as an annotation .... (Eintracht Col 10 Line 64-67 and Col 11 Lines 1-6 i.e. creating limits on the size) (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-23 and Figs 1B and 1C i.e. Note Icons that are selected, which contain information about an image)(Eintracht Col 14 Lines 14-22 i.e. selecting an annotation) (Eintracht Col 19 Lines 42-67 i.e. storing notes associated with a document or image).

Eintracht does not specifically mention where there is a subject of the annotation is displayed with the icon is placed on the images. However, Schelling mentions a subject matter descriptor which indicates the type of subject matter in the data file (Schelling Col 2 Lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply Schelling to Eintracht, providing Eintracht the benefit of detecting the subject of an image without having to individually go into each image to find out the subject, which would save time for the user.

In regard to dependent claim 6, Eintracht discloses constructing regions about locations at which said subject is rendered in said image. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-14 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation).

In regard to dependent claim 7, Eintracht discloses wherein said detecting step detects one of the regions of the subject based on the position at which the icon is dropped, and said storing step stores the metadata associated with the dropped icon as an annotation of the detected region of ... the image. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-14 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation). (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 24-27 i.e. grabbing a note icon and dragging it to a new location on the image) (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-23 and Figs 1B and 1C i.e. Note Icons that are selected, which contain information about an image)

Eintracht does not specifically mention where there is a subject of the annotation is displayed with the icon is placed on the images. However, Schelling mentions a subject matter descriptor which indicates the type of subject matter in the data file (Schelling Col 2 Lines 1-15). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to apply Schelling to Eintracht, providing Eintracht the benefit of detecting the subject of an image without having to individually go into each image to find out the subject, which would save time for the user.

In regard to dependent claim 8, Eintracht discloses dragging the selected icon to the image; and emphasizing the region under the dragged icon. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 24-35 i.e. Notes can be created by selecting an annotation tool on the screen and placing the cursor in the area of the image where it is desired to place a note. A box is created and the user can enter text. Once entered, the text appears in the form of a 'stick' note that appears on top of the image. The Note Anchor is created at the location the user placed the note. Notes can be viewed by double clicking, for example, on a note icon. Note icons are displayed on the screen when the viewing option is set to display both notes and the image. A note can be closed after viewing by clicking on the box in the upper left-hand corner of the title bar 32 (FIG. 2). Note that alternatively, graphics can be entered into a note rather than text. In this case, a graphics tool or marker is used to place graphics in the note)

In regard to dependent claim 9, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of constructing a bounding box about locations at which said subject is rendered in said image. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-14 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation and subject).

In regard to dependent claim 10, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of storing the location of said bounding box. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-17 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation and subject at a certain location).

In regard to dependent claim 11, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of extracting a part of said image based on the bounding box. (Eintracht Col 6 Lines 65-67 and Col 7 Lines 1-17)

In regard to dependent claim 12, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of displaying the extracted part of said image. (Eintracht Col 6 Lines 65-67 and Col 7 Lines 1-17)

In regard to dependent claim 13, Eintracht discloses wherein a size of said bounding box is determined automatically. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-17 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation and subject at a certain location and Col 10 Lines 64-67 and Col 11 Lines 1-5).

In regard to dependent claim 14, Eintracht discloses wherein a size of said bounding box is changeable by a user. (Eintracht Col 15 Lines 10-17 i.e. region box is created where the cursor is placed to write an annotation and subject at a certain location and Col 10 Lines 64-67 and Col 11 Lines 1-5).

In regard to dependent claim 15, Eintracht discloses wherein said metadata as the annotation of the subject is displayed upon selecting said subject in the image. (Eintracht Col 7 Lines 13-17 i.e. the display may include Note Event description, Note Owner ID, user name, path, originator IP address, time and Note Contents. When a note is selected on the Note List, its counterpart icon in the document window frame is highlighted)

In regard to dependent claim 16, Eintracht discloses providing a list of metadata; and associating the list of metadata and the plurality of icons. (Eintracht Col 7 Lines 4-17 i.e. the image window 18 displays the image with the plurality of annotations on top of the image. The Note List window displays a list of all the annotations associated with the image shown in window. The user can optionally sort the Note List by Note Owner ID, Note Time Stamp, Note color label and Note Contents. The display may include Note Event description, Note Owner ID, user name, path, originator IP address, time and Note Contents. When a note is selected on the Note List, its counterpart icon in the document window frame is highlighted)

In regard to dependent claim 17, Eintracht discloses wherein said list of metadata is provided from a database. (Eintracht Col 7 Lines 44-46 i.e. coupled to a notes database).

In regard to dependent claim 18, Eintracht discloses wherein said storing step stores the metadata as the annotation of the subject of the image by using a tag indicating an association with said image. (Eintracht Col 3 Lines 13-36 i.e. the document file for storing one or more documents, a notes database located on the server, the notes database for storing one or more notes, each note or tag associated with a particular document or subject, one or more notes clients coupled to a network, each notes client operative to locally display a representation of a document remotely stored on the server in the document file, the notes client adapted to permit a user to annotate the document with one or more notes, the notes client operative to simultaneously display the one or more notes associated with the document over the displayed document such that the document is viewable along with the one or more notes)

In regard to dependent claim 20, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of e-mailing at least the image to at least one e-mail address based on the metadata associated with the image. (Eintracht Col 22 Lines 33-37 i.e. emails to client or user)

In regard to dependent claim 21, Eintracht discloses further comprising the step of replacing the default icon by the icon generated based on the subject of the image. (Eintracht Col 3 Lines 33-37 i.e. updating the notes server with any notes events processed by the notes clients and for updating the notes client with the results of synchronization updates previously performed by other notes clients since the last synchronization event and Col 15 Lines 15-17 i.e. icons)

In regard to dependent claim 22, Eintracht discloses a computer program for a computer, comprising software code portions for performing the steps (Eintracht Col 28 Lines 1-27)

In regard to dependent claim 23, Eintracht discloses a computer readable medium storing a computer program, wherein said computer program comprises software code portions for performing the steps (Eintracht Col 28 Lines 1-27)
